

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

The Baptist churches of Vergennes and Plattsburgh have extended a unanimous call to Rev. H. H. White, formerly of Hardwick, to be their pastor.

The dwelling house on the Hopkins farm in Orwell, occupied by William Auchman and family, was destroyed by fire one day last week, only part of the household goods being saved. Part of these goods were stored in a barn belonging to Mrs. Hopkins, who lived nearby, and in the evening the barn was found to be on fire, started from a brand left in the goods. It was destroyed and it was only by strenuous work that the dwelling house was saved.

There was a large attendance at the Orwell Sunday school picnic, held at Lake Champlain Sept. 7, particularly of children, but the pleasure of the day was spoiled by the serious illness of practically the whole attendance through an error in the ingredients of the lemonade. Many required the services of a physician at the picnic grounds and still more during their return home. It was several days before they recovered from their illness, though no lasting results are expected.

Mrs. Sabine Romano, 40 years old, and her infant daughter, 18 months old, died in Providence, R. I., Saturday from asphyxiation by illuminating gas, and her husband is at the Rhode Island hospital, with little hope of recovery. Friday, the Romano family went from White River Junction to Providence to visit relatives. Four children went with the parents and three were left at home. They spent Friday night in a lodging house and the next morning the baby was found dead and the mother unconscious. The latter died at the hospital that afternoon.

Wilmer G. Crowell, formerly a star quarterback at Swarthmore, will begin his first season as coach. He will have charge of the Lafayette team. Crowell is regarded as an eminent football authority of national repute, and for years was recognized as a first class official. For three years he coached the West Philadelphia high school with success.

IN BOSTON MARKETS.

Prices Change but Little—Butter Prices Hold Firmer.

Boston, Sept. 16.—The local butter, cheese and egg markets do not change much. Butter prices hold firm, but the demand is active but because supplies of fine butter are not sufficient without drawing on storage goods. Lower prices for cheese in the primary markets have brought the local demand to a standstill and, while prices are unchanged, they appear to be wavering. The market is still short of fresh eggs and prices hold high and firm.

LARGE LIVESTOCK RECEIPTS.

Better Supply of Heavy Cattle Than for Weeks.

Brighton, Sept. 16.—Arrivals of livestock at both Brighton and Watertown markets were very heavy yesterday. Notwithstanding this, the demand was keen enough to take all the best lots at practically last week's prices, except for calves.

Arrivals of heavy beef cattle averaged better than for several weeks, and the best animals readily brought 8 1/2 c, with some shippers asking 9c. Tops are quotable at 8 1/2 c, with good cattle at 7 1/2 c, and light cattle at 6 1/2 c.

A few fancy heifers sold as high as 7@7 1/2 c, but this was the exception, best beef cows being quotable at 6 1/2 c, good cows at 5 1/2 c, ordinary cows at 4 1/2 c, and canners at 4@4 1/2 c.

Bulls were in heavy supply but the quality was only ordinary. For the best offerings 6 1/2 c was about the top, the range being 6@6 1/2 c for choice, 5 1/2 c for good, 5@5 1/2 c for ordinary, and 4 1/2 c for bolognas.

Really choice calves were scarce, but prices were easier at 9@10c, with mixed lots at 8@8 1/2 c and grassers and drink-ers at 6@7c.

Hogs were in fair supply and prices held steady at 9@9 1/2 c for best lots. A few fancy sold at 9 1/2 c, but this was the exception. Rough lots brought 8 1/2 c and boars 4 1/2 c.

Sheep and lambs are rather firmer, with a light supply. Lambs are quotable at 7@8c and sheep at 4@5c.

Offerings of milch cows were heavy, marketmen saying that it was one of the biggest days on record. Ordinary cows were easier and lower at 22@23c, with good milkers at 25@27c and fancy milkers at 28@30c and upward.

Easy Dusting.
Mrs. Florin had a new maid, and one morning as she entered the library she was somewhat surprised to find the girl seated in one of the chairs with her hands folded.

"What?" cried the mistress. "Here you are sitting down! Why, you were sent in here to dust the room!"

"Yes, ma'am," was the girl's reply, "but I've lost the duster, and so I am sitting on each of the chairs in turn."—Harper's Magazine.

Victimized by Changing Times.
"Now, then, Cousin Emma, let me give you a bit of the breast."

"Yes, please. I should like to taste that, for in my young days they always gave it to the grownups, and now they keep it for the children, so I've always missed it."—London Punch.

Not a Party Man.
"Is your husband a confirmed party man?" asked the smiling candidate.

"Laws, no! He's quit dancin' and don't even attend his lodge reg'lar," answered Mrs. Wayback.—Dallas News.
